Purpose Statement:

Because pediatric generalized convulsive status epilepticus is seen frequently in the pediatric population and individualized therapy is needed, physicians should be familiar with both the guidelines for treatment and the scientific evidence supporting the use of all anti-epileptic medication for the treatment of status epilepticus in children.

Target Audience

Primary Care Physicians, Pediatricians, Pediatric Specialists, Pediatric Sub-specialists, Pediatric Nurses, Pediatric Pharmacists.

Learning Objectives:

At the conclusion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Discuss the definition, epidemiology, and classification of epilepsy
- Describe a scoring system for predicting prognosis at time of first seizure
- Discuss the overall efficacy of medical therapy, the ketogenic diet, and surgery in the treatment of epilepsy
